Dear Clay, 6/15/98

I've asked Dave to send you the first eight chapters of Whoring with History that he retyped before shifting that to you. You can decide whether reading them before you retype any more is a benefit or not.

Because I am not at this moment in another manuscript it might be better to send what you retype as you retype it rather than waiting until it is all done.

That would make it faster for me.

Meaning I could finish with it faster.

Hope you find it interesting.

Thanks and best,

Harold
